

Family Hygiene the Natural Way

2018-12-19

Health

We are well aware of the dangers and risks of an imbalanced diet and a lack of exercise, but this awareness is something that we should also stretch to what we use for our daily hygiene. Many hygiene products and household cleaners contain harsh chemicals that penetrate your skin, affect the quality of the air that you breathe, and some can even cause chemical burns if not used correctly.

Going Green!

Greener products are simply less stressful for our body. It pays to consider what fumes we are breathing in or which chemicals are soaking into our skin. For instance, natural products used on the body and around the home can help to prevent or ease chronic illnesses like Asthma. Ingredients in greener products are less likely to cause things like skin irritations and flare-ups in children or those with sensitive skin, and if you mix your own cleaners at home then you know exactly what's gone into them—something we can never be sure of with chemical-based products. Unless we research, we won't always know the harmful effects and what they mean to our body.

Making small changes toward natural products is notably safer and can be less expensive, things like lemon, aloe vera, and many essential oils are widely accessible, inexpensive natural cleansers and anti-bacterial and anti-viral also. Taking care of our family and ourselves extends to the external environment also. Greener or more natural products are far kinder to the environment and the world we live in- fewer pollutants all around cannot be a bad thing!

However, it is easier said than done...because we are all just looking for ways to shave down the time spent on chores and cleanliness. Too often we may opt for the products that promise to save us time but in doing so, they may be damaging our health. Sometimes, all that is needed is to go back to basics!

Your body has enough pollutants, toxins, additives, preservatives and harmful chemicals to deal with...so why place an increased burden on your immune, circulatory and respiratory system? Change is always a choice- so choose better for you and your family!

We are fortunate enough to have natural goodness available to us so we should utilize this gift. Whatever your health, cosmetic and fitness goals may be, supporting yourself and your family through products that are sourced by nature and her miracles gives you the best basis for success.

Talking of nature's miracles, Miracle II is founded upon health, hygiene, and harmony using fundamental ingredients in their products that won't harm you or hinder your health like many chemically enhanced versions.

Since 1982, Kirk and Sue Tedeton, owners of Miracle II, L.L.C., have manufactured and distributed the MIRACLE II brand natural soap products. The Tedetons have been "hands-on" in every aspect of the company, managing and operating their business daily, as it has grown from a small company with zero sales and no employees, into an internationally known company with over 20 employees.

These markets were established strictly through word-of-mouth, with no company website, no television or radio ads, and no printed company advertising. Today, with more than 2,900 company-direct distributors, Miracle II products are promoted and sold by thousands of distributors using television, radio, conference calls, and printed media and on websites numbering in the tens of thousands.

With proven talent and vision for meeting consumer demand for wholesome, natural products to enhance their day-to-day quality of life, the Tedetons continue to guide their multi-million, international company within the global economy. Their past business experience, active distributor base, and loyal customers provide a solid basis for Miracle II, L.L.C.'s continued growth.
